

BUS POEMS

Shine like a star move really fast
very strong
Fly like a bird
Run like a snake
but still weak
for love

David "King Killah" Johnson

Hustle & Bustle

What time do I have to be there
Where do I have to go
How far is it
Don't know why I'm going
But how matter, I gone
"Where's my bus fare?"

Your eyes are like the stars in space
My heart beats faster and faster every time you are there I say you're my angel because I feel like you are the only thing I think about

Delicate
Pure and innocent

Pain, remorse
Hurting, excruciating, falling

SUPERHERO

My superhero saves the world because It takes care of its responsibilities.
Most of all my superhero would never turn its back on you or me.
It's super because it's so honest and overachieving.
When I look at this person
I know that it's good to imagine and to dream for this person gives me strength to believe.

Faith "Baby Cesar"

Buses

Everyone crowded, talkin' loud smooshed traveling from place 2 place long rides, loud people, not a lot of room, no eating, no drinking, no profanity, no feet on the seat Please take your transfer, .60 $1.25, your change is encoded on a change card, the bus.

Bubble

I feel like a bubble, so different from the rest of humanity Trying to keep my cool before I head into insanity

People Want

People's love is like gold Others crave what cannot be sold People want what is hard to achieve Why don't they just accept what is easy to receive People are blind with what's in front of them
They will destroy it before it had a chance to begin

Roderick Hamilton

WHAT'S GOING ON

One Day at a time
still in war
I don't know what we're fighting for Someone send me a message, let me know Hate 4 what, when love is all we need Brothers and sisters in how He made us still that does not stop the hating

Shakyla Harden

Sunrise

Sunlight hurts my eyes
My love before the sunrise
There I see beauty

W H O TIMES WHO?

I act off in these long days
Biking on those crossed trails and when I see da point
I roll, coast, drop
When I feel rain turning to all hail Swimming in those cool raining days
I now sweat on ice
Trying to stay fresh for you
And now it adds up
I was moving to fast
